P-005	Cube of Death - Tier 1		Peter "Blix" Bryant	FRI	7pm	1	Intro	Everyone	Cube of Death is a game show that is basically like Trivial Pursuit meets D&D. This is played with two teams of three per game. Every round the host asks each team a question about geek culture and if they get it right they get to roll 1d6 damage to the opposing team. Each team has 30 hit points. The first to run out of points loses the match and is eliminated.
P-006	Midnight at		Peter "Blix"	FRI	9pm	1	Intro	Everyone	The sequel to last year's "Curse of the

	The Welcome Wench		Bryant						Red Death". The tale begins with our survivors fleeing the town of La Mont which is being consumed by flame. They are headed towards Por Tenne to the inn known as the Welcome Wench. When they arrive, they will become immersed in a tale of intrigue and vengeance. A panel of GoH will read a live version of the second story in the "Tales of the Banshee" series by Peter Bryant. Listener discretion is advised for strong language and content. Event expected to start at 9:30pm
P-007	REPO! The Genetic Opera		RKO Army	FRI	9pm	2	Intro	Everyone	Set against a futuristic backdrop where an epidemic of organ failures is plaguing humanity, people turn to the unscrupulous Geneco Corporation to purchase replacements for their failing vitals. Not everybody makes good on their payments, however, which is where Nathan Wallace (Anthony Head of Buffy the Vampire Slayer fame) goes into action as one of Geneco's "repo men", brutally reclaiming defaulters organs at scalpel-point.
P-008	Photoshop Digital Painting Demo		David Miller	SAT	10am	1	Training	Everyone	Join artist guest David O. Miller as he shows examples of his work, shares stories about his gaming art career, and discusses the techniques he uses to create his digital paintings. During this seminar David will create a painting of a fantasy creature using Adobe Photoshop. Whether you're just starting out in Photoshop, or are already working with it, you'll be sure to gain insights on how to use this application more efficiently.

P-009	Going Cardboard; A boardgame documentary		Lorien Green	SAT	12pm	1	Intro	everyone	Going Cardboard is a film about the new board gaming, a phenomenon going on right under your nose, probably in your very community! This film will take you into that world to meet the players and designers responsible for this radical departure from technology. And you just might discover it's the hobby for you
P-010	Art Imitating the Game		Peter "Blix" Bryant	SAT	5pm	1	Intro	Everyone	Gaming has permeated the world of art on many levels. There are illustrators, film makers, writers, podcasters, and musicians who have all gained inspiration from games. Our panel will talk about their artistic efforts that stem from the gaming culture.
P-011	Taking Your Game On-Line		Peter "Blix" Bryant	SAT	5pm	1	Intro	Everyone	The panelists will talk about several of the on-line sites dedicated to enhancing the table top RPG experience. If you've ever considered using one of these sites, want to learn how to get more out of them, or are just plain curious come and find out all about it. One of the main topics will be Obsidian Portal and will be run by one of the team that won January's Campaign of the Month. Event starts at 6pm
P-012	Cube of Death - Playoffs and Championship		Peter "Blix" Bryant	SAT	7pm	1	Intro	Everyone	Cube of Death is a game show that is basically like Trivial Pursuit meets D&D. This is played with two teams of three per game. Every round the host asks each team a question about geek culture and if they get it right they get to roll 1d6 damage to the opposing team. Each team has 30 hit points. The first to run out of points loses the match and is eliminated.

P-013	ROCKY HORROR PICTURE SHOW		RKO Army	SAT	9pm	2	Intro	Everyone	Part campy musical, part horror film, the movie details the travails of a squeaky clean couple stranded at a creepy castle where the inhabitants sing and dance through a bacchanalian romp of murder, bisexuality and cannibalism. The Rocky Horror Picture Show has been playing for 35 years as the king of cult movies.
P-014	DR. HORRIBLE'S SING-A-LONG BLOG		RKO Army	SUN	1pm	1	Intro	Everyone	Conceived as an "online miniseries event" during the 2008 writers' strike, Dr. Horrible's Sing-Along Blog is a 42-minute musical romp that bears the distinctive stamp of Joss Whedon. Neil Patrick Harris (How I Met Your Mother) plays the title character, who video-blogs about his twin goals to join the Evil League of Evil and to woo the fair Penny (Felicia Day, of Whedon's Buffy the Vampire Slayer and the Web series The Guild), a woman he met at the local Laundromat. Dr. Horrible is foiled on both fronts, however, by his arch-nemesis, the self-absorbed superhero Captain Hammer (Nathan Fillion, Whedon's Firefly).
P-015	BUFFY THE VAMPIRE SLAYER - ONCE MORE WITH FEELING		RKO Army	SUN	3pm	1	Intro	Everyone	Dragged out of what she believes to have been heavenly bliss, Buffy finds herself "going through the motions" and entering into a relationship with the evil, besotted vampire Spike just to force her emotions. Willow becomes ever more caught up in the temptations of magic; Xander and Anya move towards marriage without ever discussing their reservations; Giles feels he is standing in the way of Buffy's adult independence; Dawn feels neglected. And then comes along a song-and-dance demon to bring all this out.
